

LINDENAU GETS THREE YEARS.

Testified That Olga Molitor, and Not
Hau, Killed Frau Molitor.

KARLSRUHE, Dec. 20.—Karl Lindenau, who was being prosecuted on a charge of complicity in the libeling of Olga Molitor, and of having attempted to blackmail her, to-day was sentenced to three years' imprisonment and to five years' loss of civil rights. The trial of Lindenau is a sequel to the recent trial of Karl Hau, who was convicted of murdering his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, who was the mother of Olga Molitor. At the trial of Hau, Lindenau testified that Olga Molitor, and not Hau, shot and killed her mother.

Lindenau, who is 64 years old, has a record of having served several minor sentences for various offenses. The State's Attorney declared that throughout his life Lindenau had incessantly utilized falsehoods and blackmail in order to obtain money. He described his action against Olga Molitor as a poisoned arrow fired from ambush which might have led to her destruction.

The prisoner repeatedly interrupted the proceedings by insulting the lawyer and putting his fingers in his ears and shrieking, "I will hear no more." After being sentenced Lindenau sobbed spasmodically, shouting between sobs, "And that is justice."

New Alderman from the Fourteenth.

John Luce, Assemblyman from the Fourteenth District, was sworn in as Alderman yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Newburger. He defeated Patrick Hatton at the last election.

The New York Times

Published: December 21, 1907

Copyright © The New York Times